CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS ISSUE

Shalom Rosenfeld: Head of Journalism Studies Program and the Institute for Research of the Jewish Press, Tel Aviv University; a founder of Ma'ariv and its editor in chief, 1974-88.

Rafi Mann: News desk chief, Ma'ariv; lecturer in journalism, Hebrew University of Jerusalem and Kotel School of Communications; co-author, Army Radio all the Time (1991, Hebrew).

Yu’akov Rabi: Late journalist and author; staff member, Al Hamishmar; died in 1988.

Dr. Gideon Knotts: Senior lecturer in Jewish media and history, University of Paris 8; Kol Yisrael correspondent in France.

Dr. Yaron Katz: Lecturer in mass communications, Center for Technological Education, Holon.

Dr. Menahem Blondheim: Lecturer in communications, Political Science Department, Bar-Ilan University.

Daniel Mueller: University of Dortmund, Germany.

Etti Paz: Teacher, Unit for the Teaching of Hebrew, and master degree candidate in Jewish history, Tel Aviv University.

Akiva Zimmerman: Researcher of Jewish heritage, religion and liturgy.

Prof. Nurit Govrin: Department of Hebrew Literature, Tel Aviv University.

Aharon Yaffe: Research student, Geography Department, Hebrew University of Jerusalem.

Mussia Lipman: Former chief archivist, Lavon Institute, Tel Aviv.

Ahava Boker: Graduate, Journalism Studies Program, Tel Aviv University.